IIT Delhi Admission Process

Below are the exams accepted for different courses at IIT-D:

- BTech: JEE Main & JEE Advance
- MTech: GATE
- MSc: IIT JAM
- MBA: CAT
- BDes / MDes: UCEED

Mentioned below in detail is how to get admission to IIT Delhi:

1: Meet the eligibility

To get admission in IIT Delhi, students must meet the eligibility. The eligibility is to have valid scores in last qualifying exams.

2: IIT Delhi Application Process

Candidates wanting admission at IIT Delhi are required to complete application form for course-specific entrance exam. For example, for BTech, candidates are required to apply for JEE Main, followed by JEE Advanced application.

Similarly, for IIT Delhi PG admissions, the IIT-JAM application form is required to be completed for MSc course and likewise other accepted exam applications. Furthermore, apart from exam applications, candidates applying for PhD/PG courses need to apply separately on IIT-D official website.

3: IIT Delhi Selection Criteria

After the conclusion of the application process, students are required to take the course-specific entrance exam followed by other selection rounds (if applicable). After which, counselling rounds are carried out for some of the programmes at for the seat allotment process.

4: Admission Confirmation

Candidates selected in Indian Institute of Technology Delhi after all the selection rounds can confirm their admission/seat by paying the required amount of IIT Delhi fee.

Documents Required

- Class 10, 12 marksheets
- Bachelor's degree certificate & marksheets (for PG courses only)
- Master's degree certificate & marksheets (for PhD courses only)
- Entrance exam scorecard (JEE/GATE/IIT JAM/UCEED/CAT/CEED)
- Work experience certificate (if available)
- Passport-size photograph
- Scanned image of signature
- OBC-NCL Certificate (if applicable)
- Copy of Income & Asset certificate for EWS (if applicable)