

Veer Narmad South Gujarat University Results 2019

Updated on: Jun 26, 2019

Shipra Suman

131 Views

University results 2019 for Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat, are out for some courses. Read through to know more about the results.

Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, better known as the VNSGU, is located in the south of Gujarat and was established in the year 1965. This university is a huge one which is covering nearly seven districts of the Gujarat state. They are aimed at offering high-quality education to the students in different streams and courses. The high-quality education makes them eligible to continue for higher education or for the job industry.

Disclaimer: This PDF is auto-generated based on the information available on Shiksha as on 05-Jun-2020.

The chancellor of the university is the governor of Gujarat. Various courses are offered by Veer Narmad South Gujarat University which are certificate, diploma, undergraduate, PG and even PhD programs. This is a public university which is fully owned by the Government of the state. The university is being affiliated under the UGC. Students seeking admission in VNSGU can visit the official website. Every year the university conducts semester examination for two times. One in the month of April /May and another in the month of November/ December. A total of 285 colleges are under this university which follow the rules and regulation of this college. Veer Narmad South Gujarat University (VNSGU) result is very important as it determines whether they would be eligible for the continuation of the courses further. So we wish you good luck with your VNSGU result for 2019.

Students who have appeared for the sixth semester, B.sc and M.Sc in biotechnology (Integrated) examination of the university can check the results on the official website of the university. The results have been uploaded successfully on the official website of the university. A student can easily check their result from the website. The only mode to check the result is through online. No other mode is considered valid to check the result.

Here is the stepwise guide for students to check their Veer Narmad South Gujarat University (VNSGU) results online. The results are segregated course-wise, hence it is easier to find.

- Visit the official website of the university or click on the link <http://www.vnsgu.ac.in/>
- You will be directed to the home page of the university check the Student tab on the upper hand side of the page. Click on the student tab to enter the page.
- Then select the result option which has been already activated by the university.
- Once you click on it, you will be taken to the page where you need to choose the department and the courses.

- Now you need to fill up some necessary information about you like the roll number or the enrolment number, number of semesters etc.
- Click on the submit button
- You can view the result on the next page.
- Check the result and download the result to save it onto the system.
- You can print out the result for further reference but this print out is not considered valid. The original VNGSU results will be given from the university from respective colleges.

Once you get the Veer Narmad South Gujarat University result, you can contact the respective colleges to get clear about the results. A print out of the result can be taken for the time being as a reference. But that is not at all a valid document.

About the result of the university

This is the result of the even semester which has been conducted two months back i.e. in the month of April 2019. To appear for the examination, a student has to register through the online exam application. After the registration is complete, the university will give the registered students the admit card. These admit card is a very important document which you need to carry while you are appearing for the examination. Even the number on the admit card will be essential to check the result too. Hence the admit card need to be kept very carefully. Colleges under the university will distribute the admit card to the respective students. Even the admit card is available online too. Students can download the admit card from the portal given. After the examination is completed, the Veer Narmad South Gujarat University result is declared on the online portal.

Every year lots of students under different streams appear for the examination and wait eagerly for the VNSGU result. For the year 2019, the wait has been over and the results are now available online for the students.

