Review of DR Patel and RB Patel Commerce College (DRB College).

Placements: 5 to 7% of students were placed in my course. The highest package offered in my course is INR 2,40,000 per annum; the lowest package offered in my course is INR 1,20,000 per annum; and the average package offered is INR 1,80,000 per annum. There is no internship in my course. The top role offered in my course is that of accountant.

Infrastructure: There is no Wi-Fi available; there is one lab available; there is a big classroom available with a capacity of 150 students per class; and there is also one library available. The quality of the food is disgusting, and not all food is available at the time you order. There is a lot of scope for sports students.

Faculty: The teachers are very well qualified, knowledgeable, and experienced, and the teaching quality is very good. This course is not curriculum-relevant and does not make the students industry-ready. The semester exams are very easy; anyone can pass them; the pass percentage is 95%.

Other: I chose this course because it is relatively easy for me to study it for my career. The best thing about my course is that it takes so little study to complete it. In my opinion, this course should add an internship.

The top recruiting company is L&T. There is no internship in my course. The top role offered in my course is that of accountant.

Infrastructure: There are lots of classrooms available with high facilities, and there is one library on campus. There is not any hostel available, the quality of food is average, there are few medical facilities available, and the sports and games scope is very high at this college.

Faculty: The teachers are very helpful, well qualified, and knowledgeable, and their teaching quality is very good. No, this course is not curriculum-relevant and does not make the students industry-ready. The semester exam level is average; anyone can pass the exam, and the pass percentage is 95%.

Other: I chose this course because I had no option to choose another one. I wish internships would be added to this course in the future.
