Hello Sneh,

No, it is not possible to pursue M.Sc. IT course after completion of your 12th standard with Commerce stream. To be eligible to pursue M.Sc. IT course, you should have passed Bachelor's degree in IT or related stream from a Government recognised university.

Hi, It is great to see that the candidates are really keen to pursue a good career from a good college choice.

I know the web site of LPU which would inform you the eligibility for a course, admission criteria as well as the scholarship for which you would be eligible including the scholarships it offers to aid education in such grim conditions of covid. The entrance test syllabus and paper pattern too is given. It has also received the Best Placements award.

Similarly you can browse your college site and compare the academic excellence schemes of good faculty, infrastructure, live projects, seminars, exposure, platform, scholarships, placements etc.

Seats are filling up fast due to online admissions so be fast to grab your seat.

All the Best.
