YEAR	2	Core Course 12: Contemporary Foreign Policy of India Year of Introduction: 2020-21			Credit	4
Semester	3				Hours	60
Objectives	CO1 - This course is aimed at providing a critical understanding of the major issues and processes of India's foreign policy in the post-Cold War era. CO2 - The students will learn how the reconfiguration of power at the international level has resulted into new foreign policy dynamics, and how simultaneous processes of change and continuity are opening up both challenges and opportunities for India in the global arena. CO3 - They would be able to identify and evaluate strategies through which India is building up and asserting its influence at the regional and global levels. CO4 - The course also attempts to give basic insights into the contemporary security challenges that India faces and how it responds to the same. India's recent strategic partnerships, its multilateral cooperation through regional and global forums and the persisting disputes with Pakistan and China are other aspects of this course.

YEAR	2	Core Course16: Contemporary Political Thinkers Year of Introduction: 2020-21	Credit	4

Objectives	CO1 - The main concern of this paper is to introduce and critically assess the main arguments and positions of some dominant contemporary western and Indian political thinkers, beginning with Gandhi, Arendt and Rawls. CO2 - The paper will deal with the arguments of human nature, state, rights, justice and freedom offered by these political thinkers. CO3 - There will also be an attempt to read these thinkers from a gender sensitive perspective. CO4 - An attempt will be made to try and deal with these arguments from a historical and contextual perspective, which would help students in understanding the basis of politics.
