

NEET MDS 2023 Question Paper with Answers (Memory-Based)

Go through the memory-based NEET MDS 2023 question paper with answers below.

Q. What is used for systematic bleeding control in tooth extraction case?

A. Ethamsylate

Q. Which drug is used to treat absence seizure?

A. Valproate

Q. From what is alginate filler derived?

A. Brown algae (seaweed)

Q. Penicillamine is an antidote for?

A. Copper

Q. Which thermal energy is needed to convert solid to liquid?

A. Latent heat of fusion

Q. What is referred to the stage when a person is thinking of changing?

A. Contemplation

Q. Pustules are initial lesions in.

A. Pemphigus Vegetans – Hallopeau Type

Q. Where do ameloblasts originate from?

A. Ectoderm

Q. Which dental stone exhibits least expansion?

A. Type IV

Q. Which is an excretory duct tumor?

A. Mucoepidermoid Carcinoma (MEC)

Q. Dog and bell experiment is a part of.

A. Classical Conditioning

Q. Angle former is a modification of?

A. Chisel

Q. What is affected by injury to pterion?

A. Middle meningeal vein

Note: These are recall questions based on memory of test takers.

